

Ella Suena

From the very first note, you transport listeners into the heart of a snowstorm, capturing both its chaos and its haunting beauty. The way you navigate the tremolos and chromatic cascades is masterful, and the emotional crescendo feels like a journey through the depths of human experience.

What truly stands out is your ability to connect Liszt's Romantic vision to the symbolic power of nature. Your passion for this piece shines through, and your explanation of its psychological depth adds such a rich layer of understanding to the performance.
